EXPLANATION AND PREFACE.

THESE Date Tables will require but little explanation. When the book is open, the two pages constitute one table. The large figures at the tops of the pages are for the days of the month, from whatever month time is computed; and they extend across the two pages from 1 to 31, 30 and 28. Under these are columns of figures showing the date to which time is computed. The abbreviations for the months, Jan., Feb., Mar., etc., stand in the place of the first day of the month; so in using the tables, imagine a figure 1 where the month comes. The number of days between the two dates is shown in the margins, in heavy faced type.

The main feature to this book is the cut index at its side. Place the thumb on the month from which it is desired to compute a date. If it is for 30, 60 or 90 days, use the top half of the book; if for any other number of days, use the lower half. On opening the book at any of the months in this lower half, a second index is exposed. By placing the thumb or finger on the month to which it is desired to compute a date, it is possible to turn instantly to the page on which the two dates are given, and you have before you the number of days from the one date to the other.

In the front of the book, to which the index at the side will direct you, on the same page where maturity at 30, 60 and 90 days is given, will also be found the number of days intervening between any date in any month to the corresponding date in any other month, for eight months.

In the back of the book, are two pages of tables for computing interest, one on the basis of 360 days to the year, and the other on the basis of 365 days to the year. There are also four pages for computing return premiums on insurance policies. These pages may be used for any purpose where the fractional parts of the year, for any given number of days, are expressed decimally.

By way of preface, all I care to say is, that, so far as I am aware, no one has ever attempted to bring out a set of tables for the purpose for which this book was compiled; and in no other way can one find the number of days between any two dates so quickly, and with so little danger of error. And the danger of error is one of the most important aspects of the problem. Having been engaged for many years in clerical work, I have yet to see the man who will not make a mistake once in a while; and any check upon the work is helpful. Errors are apt to be expensive things, many times exceeding the cost of this book.

Interest Table, On the Basis of 360 Days to the Year.

Common Interest.

Bank Interest.

Being the number of days, as a fractional part of the year, expressed decimally.

Rule.— To find the interest on any amount, for any number of days, multiply the interest for one year by the decimal in the table for the days.

Example.— What is the interest on $3500.00 for 209 days at 5½ per cent?

(1)		(2)		Or, Decimal. (to four places.)
Amount	3500	Int. for 1 Yr.	192.50	Int. for 1 Yr.	.5806
Rate.	.05½	Decimal.	.58056
	17500		115500		29030
	1750		96250		11612
Int. for 1 Yr.	$192.50		154000		52254
			96250		5806
		$111.7578000	Int. for 209 days.	$111.76550

Where the interest for one year is less than $100.00, four decimals are enough. The difference between the results above, where four and five are used, and where the year's interest is $192.50, is less than one cent.

Interest Table, On the Basis of 365 Days to the Year.

Accurate Interest.

Being the number of days, as a fractional part of the year, expressed decimally.

Rule.— To find the interest on any amount, for any number of days, multiply the interest for one year by the decimal in the table for the days.

Example.— What is the interest on \$3500.00 for 212 days at $5\frac{1}{2}$ per cent?

(1)		(2)		Or, Decimal. (to four places.)
Amount.	3500	Int. for 1 Yr.	192.50	Int. for 1 Yr.	.5808
Rate.	.05½	Decimal.	.58082		1925
	17500		38500		29040
	1750		154000		11616
Int. for 1 Yr.	$192.50		154000		52272
			96250		5808
		$111.8078500		Int. for 212 days.	$111.80400

Where the interest for one year is less than $100.00, four decimals are enough. The difference between the results above, where four and five are used, and where the year's interest is $192.50, is less than one cent.

Return Premium Table for Insurance Policies.

One Year Policies, Pro Rata.

Rule.— To compute the amount of return premium on a one year policy, find the number of days it has been in force by the tables in the preceding pages. Opposite that number, in the table below, is a decimal, which multiply by the premium for one year. The result will be the amount of return premium.

Example.— What is the amount of pro rata return premium on a one year policy issued July 10th and cancelled January 25th, the premium for one year being $28. ?

From July 10th to January 25th is 199 days; see page 92. Below, opposite 199, is the decimal number .4548; $.4548 \times 28 = $12.73$, the amount of return premium.

To compute the return premium on a five year policy, find the return premium for even years, which would be by fifths of the total premium, and use the table below for the fractional part of the year in which the policy was cancelled, the same as though it was a one year policy, using, of course, one fifth of the total premium for a multiplier.

Return Premium Table for Insurance Policies.

Three Year Policies, Pro Rata, In Force Less than One Year.

Rule.— To compute the amount of return premium on a three year policy, in force less than one year, find the number of days it has been in force by the tables in the preceding pages, the same as for a one year policy, and multiply the decimal given below, opposite that number, by the full amount of the premium.

Example.— What is the return premium on a three year policy issued June 9th and cancelled the May 3rd following, the premium for three years being $32.?

From June 9th to May 3rd is 328 days; see page 84. Below, opposite 328, is the decimal number .7005; $.7005 \times 32 = $22.41$, the amount of return premium.

To compute the return premium on a five year policy, see directions on the opposite page. The return premium on a three year policy may be found in the same manner as on a five year policy, if desired. Divide the total premium by 3, making three one year periods, and using the decimal in the one year table for the fractional part of the year.

Return Premium Table for Insurance Policies.

Three Year Policies, Pro Rata, In Force from One to Two Years.

Rule.— To compute the amount of return premium on a three year policy, in force from one to two years, find the number of days more than one year it has been in force by the tables in the preceding pages, the same as for a one year policy, and multiply the decimal given below, opposite that number, by the full amount of the premium.

Example.— What is the return premium on a three year policy issued June 9th and cancelled the second May 3rd following, the premium for three years being $32.?

From June 9th to May 3rd is 328 days; see page 84. Below, opposite 328, is the decimal number .3671; $.3671 \times 32 = $11.75$, the amount of return premium.

To compute the return premium on a five year policy, see directions given on page 160. The return premium on a three year policy may be found in the same manner as on a five year policy, if desired. Divide the total premium by 3, making three one year periods, and using the decimal in the one year table for the fractional part of the year.

Return Premium Table for Insurance Policies.

Three Year Policies, Pro Rata, In Force More than Two Years.

Rule.— To compute the amount of return premium on a three year policy, in force more than two years, find the number of days more than two years it has been in force by the tables in the preceding pages, the same as for a one year policy, and multiply the decimal given below, opposite that number, by the full amount of the premium.

Example.— What is the return premium on a three year policy issued June 9th and cancelled May 3rd two years and over following, the premium for three years being $32.?

From June 9th to May 3rd is 328 days; see page 84. Below, opposite 328, is the decimal number .0338; $.0338 \times 32 = $1.08$, the amount of return premium.

To compute the return premium on a five year policy, see directions given on page 160. The return premium on a three year policy may be found in the same manner as on a five year policy, if desired. Divide the total premium by 3, making three one year periods, and using the decimal in the one year table for the fractional part of the year.

THE DAVIS FOREIGN EXCHANGE TABLES.

The Only Complete Conversion Tables in One Volume in Print.

There is a line for each rate, and each line is a table complete for that rate, carried out an imaginary decimal point under an imaginary decimal point, so that the same figures are used whether the amount is 1. or 10. or 1,000 or 100,000. Every rate ever quoted on every country which it is practicable to make conversion table for, is given. The tables for English money include all the decimal rates, 4.86.05, 4.86.10, 4.86.15, etc., as well as the $\frac{1}{8}$'s, $\frac{1}{4}$'s, $\frac{3}{8}$'s, etc. The tables for French, German and Dutch monies include all the percentage fractions, 1-64, 1-32, 3-64, 1-16, 5-64 and 3-32. One does not have to figure the even rate and then add or subtract the fractional part; they are all carried out, each one complete. The tables for Austria-Hungarian money include all the $\frac{1}{4}$'s, $\frac{1}{2}$'s and $\frac{3}{4}$'s, as: 20.36, 20.36 $\frac{1}{4}$, 20.36 $\frac{1}{2}$, and so on.

Besides, there are a number of tables in the book, and readily accessible, showing at a glance what rate to charge a customer, over and above the cost rate, to obtain a certain amount of profit on a check or draft. These tables alone are worth the price of the book.

Then too, there is a sample line at the head of every page showing how best to write drafts as well as how to write the figures and have them correct, helpful to both the novice and the most experienced draft teller.

The book is set in the same type as that in which the body of this book is set. If you are in need of anything of the kind, do not fail to send for descriptive circular of these tables before purchasing.

THE DAVIS INTEREST TABLES.

These tables have the interest figured at the following rates.

3, 3 $\frac{1}{2}$, 4, 4 $\frac{1}{2}$, 5, 5 $\frac{1}{2}$, 6, 6 $\frac{1}{2}$, 7, 7 $\frac{1}{2}$, 8, 9, 10 and 12 per cent.

The type is large and plain, the same as in the Foreign Exchange Tables, and there is a line for a rate, carried out in the same manner. Every one who has given the interest question any study knows that the interest on an amount of money at 3 per cent for 120 days, at 4 per cent for 90 days, at 5 per cent for 72 days, at 6 per cent for 60 days, and at several other rates and number of days, is the same in each case. By taking advantage of this fact, it has been found possible to reduce the number of pages very materially from the number of pages other interest books contain to get the same sum total of results. But other interest tables do not contain all of these rates, except those set in small type, and which are quite expensive. And those tables are not more useful than these.

If you are in want of an interest book, be sure and get a descriptive circular and sample page of these. You will not want any other.

Price per single copy, Postpaid. . . . $1.50

TABLES FOR WHEAT AND OTHER GRAIN.

Showing the value of Wheat or any Grain or Produce, at 60 pounds to the bushel, for any amount up to 100 bushels, without addition or multiplication; and by hundreds up to 1,000 bushels. Also showing the value of bushels and pounds of other kinds of grain at 32, 48 and 56 pounds to the bushel. The tables run from 15 cts. to $1.50 per bushel. This is practically the only book of tables used in the United States or Canada for the purpose of finding the value of a quantity of grain.

Price per single copy,	$1.25
In lots of five or more,	$1.00

POUNDS TO BUSHEL TABLES.

Reducing pounds to bushels at the following weights: 32, 33, 34, 35, 48, 49, 56, 57, 60, 68, 70, 72, 75 and 80 pounds to the bushel. The type is all large and plain; there are no small figures. Every table goes to 100 or more bushels, most of them to 7,000 pounds.

Price per single copy,	50 cts.
In lots of five or more,	40 cts.

FLAX DOCKAGE TABLES.

Showing the net weights of flax, from 200 to 4,000 pounds, and from 2 to 25 per cent. It takes time and trouble to figure out the net amount of flax in a load weighing, say for instance, 2,360 pounds, bought at $8\frac{1}{2}$ per cent off, and there is considerable danger of error. The Flax Dockage Tables give that net amount at a glance, and save time when time is valuable.

Price per single copy,	35 cts.
-------------------------------	---	---	---	---	----------------

WHEAT DOCKAGE TABLES.

Showing the dockage on wheat at $1\frac{1}{2}$, 2, $2\frac{1}{2}$, 3, $3\frac{1}{2}$, 4 and 5 pounds to the bushel. The Dockage Table is constructed to conform to the usual custom of using only the even 10's in the weighing of wheat. It is a simple card, about 7 by 9 inches, printed in large pica figures, to hang or tack up by one's desk. It will go through the mail without breaking. A convenient and useful table.

Price per single copy,	15 cts.
-------------------------------	---	---	---	---	----------------

The above prices are quoted, postage or express prepaid.

I can furnish you with any tables in the market, whether published by me or not. I can sell them to you at the regular price.
